

OCTOBER. X Month.

The Lyncean GALILEO then aspires Thro' the rais'd Tube to mark the Stellar Fires!
The Galaxy with clustring Lights o'erspread,
The new-nam'd Stars in bright Orion's Head,
The varying Phases circling Planets show,
The Solar Spots, his Fame was first to know.
Of Jove's Attendants, Orbs till then unknown, Himself the big Discovery claims alone.

When an Army is to march thro' a Wilderness, where the Conveniences of Life are scarce to be obtained even for Money, many Hardships, Wants and Difficulties must necessarily be borne by the Soldiers; which nothing tends more to make tolerable, than the Example of their Officers. If these riot in Plenty, while these suffer Hunger and Thirst, Respect and Obedience are in Danger of being lost, and Mutiny or Desertion taking their Places. Charles the XIIth of Sweden, thus still'd a growing Clamour about his Bread in his March thro' the Wilds of Tartary: The Soldiers complained of it, and presented him a Sample of what was daily distributed to them, mouldy as it was, and half rotten. He received it coolly, examined it, and said, 'Tis bad indeed, but it may be eaten. And to prove his Words, he immediately ate it himself.
Lucan gives us a glorious Picture of Cato, easing his Army thro' the parched Deserts of Libya, Foremost, on Foot, he treads the burning Sand, Bearing his Arms in his own patient Hand:
Scorning another's weary Neck to press,
Or in a lazy Chariot loll at Ease.
The panting Soldier to his Toil succeeds, Where no Command but great Example leads.
Sparing of Sleep, still for the rest he wakes,
And at the Fountain last his Thirst he slakes: When'er by Chance, some living Stream is found,
He stands, and sees the cooling Draught go round, Says till the last and meanest Drudge be past,
And, till his Slaves have drank, disdains to taste.
